1. What is the chart trying to show?

The chart shows the revenue earned in different months. It helps us compare the monthly revenue and January to June using bar chart.

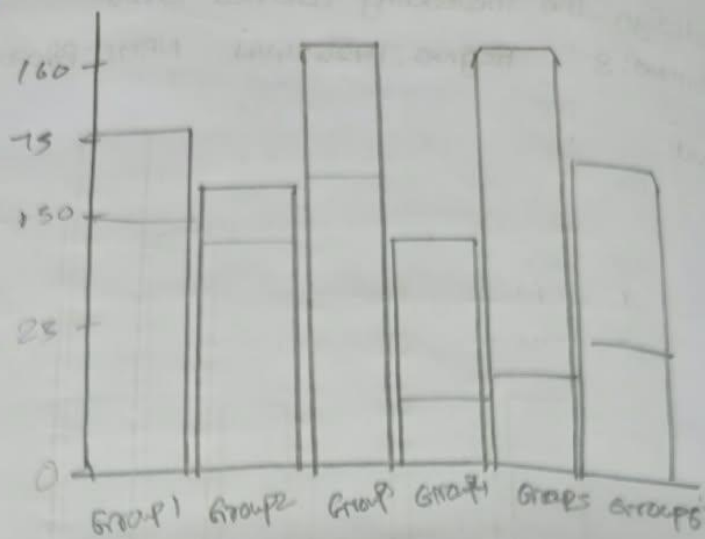

2. What's wrong with the colour choice

- Each month has a different bright color.
- The colour are too many and distracting
- The colour do not have any special meaning

3. Propose a better color scheme.

If highlighting an important month, use blue normal months and a darker blue for the high month. This makes the chart clean and easy to understand.

Chart 2

1. What is this chart trying to show?

The chart shows the target missed by different teams.

2. What's wrong with the color choice.

- The green and red colours are very strong.
- Red can attract too much attention and make the chart look negative.

Propose a better colour system.

Alternatively, use green for target met and gray for target missed. Keep the same colour every time so that the chart is easy to read.
